

Nature HUNT

-- Teacher's Guide --

In this activity your class will go on a hunt to find and classify living things by simple criteria, for example, an animal with wings. They will record their observations by drawing the living thing on their record sheet.

This is a great activity if you're looking at animals and plants, or just as a fun way to get your little ones outside observing nature.

This pack contains two levels of differentiation:

Diff. 1: Students draw what they have found with simple criteria

Diff. 2: Students draw and write what they have found with slightly more complicated criteria.
